In partnership with Cokesbury Village, a member of PUMH Inc

Music & Dance: A Multi-Cultural Program

Featuring musical performances from Indonesia, Korea, Trinidad & Tobago and France.

Sunday, April 26, 2009 at 2:00 PM. Early arrival is recommended.

Followed by a reception - an opportunity to meet performers and make new friends.

Cokesbury Village (high rise building; lower level atrium)

726 Loveville Road

Hockessin, Delaware 19707

Parking in the Visitor section is available.

This Program is Free and Open to the Public.

Indonesia--Indonesian Cultural Club (ICC) will introduce Indonesian culture by way of a variety of dances and colorful dance costumes. The ICC was founded with the purpose of sharing performances in Delaware and the greater Tri-state area. Since the year 2000, the group has participated in various municipal and university sponsored events. They maintain great pride in recognizing and advancing their diverse culture while sharing their passion for performing arts with the extended community and the world.

Korea--A three-part sequence will introduce the tones of Korea with a Korean Folk Music ensemble, a soprano soloist and a multi-member choir. All are members of the neighboring Delaware Korean United Methodist Church. They will explain the significance and origins of these folk and more modern pieces.

Trinidad & Tobago--Live Steel Pan Drums will be the genre through which the band C&C Sounds will introduce the music and feelings of their native Trinidad. The group is made up of professionals who work full-time but enjoy the gift of the Steel Pan, which is the only musical instrument created in the 20th century. We can expect a variety of styles such as Reggae, Calypso Jazz, Latin and more.

France-- Accordion music of France will be played by Francois Hricak, a 75 year-old retiree who was born in Southern Belgium where he learned French music at an early age before immigrating to the United States. Francois now lives in New Jersey and is a member of the Delaware Accordion Club in Newark where he practices regularly.
